On bringing this addition of my former work before the Trade it gives me pleasure to make my acknowledgements for their kindness in giving so universal a response to my Circular. There are some few who may feel disappointed by not seeing all the books on their Trade List credited to them. To these I will say, the intention of my Book is to give the real publisher, and not a transcript of Trade Lists.

My intention is to keep the Book "posted up," by Supplement: another year, and two years hence have the whole thrown into one.

ORVILLE A. ROORBACH.

[From the National Intelligencer.]

"The object of the publishers is a good one, and they are undoubtedly prosecuting it with determined energy."

[From the Washington Union.]

"This journal stands at this time conspicuous as a record and critic of the literature of the country. It is, we do not hesitate to say, the most complete periodical of the kind we have yet had; and we doubt whether any man, claiming to possess a well-chosen library and cultivated taste, fully sustains his title if he is not a faithful reader and supporter of the 'World.'"

PERIODICALS.

THE following comprises but a limited list of the periodicals published in the United States. When I first contemplated such a List I advertised extensively, requesting publishers to send prospectus of their works, and as the advantage was altogether on their side (securing a permanent advertisement gratuitously) I anticipated a general response. On the contrary I received less than twenty returns: the remainder I have obtained by personal application. But for the duty I owe to those few who responded to the call I should omit the List.

ROBERT CARTER & BROTHERS'

New Publications.

The Footsteps of St. Paul.

By the author of the "Morning and Night Watches." 12mo. Illustrated. $1.

"The 'Footsteps of St. Paul' is the title of an able and instructive work, presenting a consecutive history of the life, labors, and teachings of the great Apostle. It interweaves, in the narrative, all the direct disclosures of the Acts, the incidental intimations of the Epistles, all the outside information extant, and many conjectural statements derived from a comparison of different parts of Scripture. But he has written it in an animated and graphic style, and imbued it with a fine spirit. It leaves a strong impression on the reader's mind. It is copiously illustrated with maps and engravings, and is every way a scholarly performance."—Evangelist.

"The Carters have published a multitude of good books, but, unless we greatly mistake, this will be reckoned among the best of them."—Puritan Recorder.

I. The Words of Jesus.

16mo. 40 cents.

"This admirable little volume illustrates and applies some of the precious utterances of the Blessed Saviour, in language chaste, simple, affectionate and urgent, enlightening the thoughts, exciting the affections, subduing the passions, guiding the soul, like the star of Bethlehem, to the meek and lowly Saviour."—Watchman.

II. The Mind of Jesus.

The Rich Kinsman.

The History of Ruth the Moabitess, by Stephen H. Tyng, D.D. 16mo. $1.

"The author presents this work in the hope that it will be found adapted to enlighten the minds of the young in some of the great subjects of scriptural instruction. . . . The author has been long impressed with the feeling that neither commentaries nor sermons have yet made that simple and practical use of the fullness of Scripture truth for which it is adapted—perhaps he might say for which it is designed. The young mind certainly can be interested in the word of God, as a book full of attraction as well as full of truth. Whoever can be made in any degree the instrument of leading to this result, by bringing out to view the real attractions of Scripture, confers so far an invaluable benefit upon others."—Extract from the Preface.

The Truth and Life.

A Series of Discourses. By Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio. 8vo. $2.

"We have seldom met with a more admirable volume of Sermons than the one now lying before us. * * * The subjects are varied, but in all there is the same clearness, and fullness of Gospel truth. * * * We can assure our readers that there is a freshness and power pervading the work, which is most delightful to find in this age of flimsy sentiment and idealistic abstractions."—Banner.

The Saints' Everlasting Rest.

By Richard Baxter. The ONLY COMPLETE EDITION ever published in the United States. One volume royal 8vo. $2.

"There are no religious works which have had, next to John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," so extensive, increasing, and continued circulation, as those of Richard Baxter. 'The Saints' Rest' is eminently a favorite with Christians, and has been richly blessed. The volume in general use is an abridgment, well executed, of the original, and is not as much as one-half of its compass. However well condensed, an abridgment can not retain and exhibit all the merits of the original, and very many of the lovers of the smaller volume will hail and embrace the opportunity of obtaining the original work, in the present neat and acceptable form.—Christian Intelligencer.

Discourses on Truth.

By J. H. Thornwell, D.D., President of the South Carolina College, Columbia, S. C. 12mo. $1.

"The Ethics are of the loftiest standard, breathing a pure theology, and informed by a sound psychology, and presented in a form of compacted logic. It is a tonic for both mind and heart to read these able expositions of the moral system of Christianity. * * * To those who think, it will be found a dish of strong meat, the inward digestion of which will give vigor to both the mental and spiritual man."—Watchman and Observer.

The Christian Statesman.

A Memoir of William Wilberforce.

This new Memoir of the Christian, the patriot, and philanthropist, is from the pen of a gifted American lady, and will be read with intense interest by all classes of readers.

The Autobiography and Reminiscences of the Rev. Wm. Jay.

2 vols. royal 12mo. $2.50.

"Few names are so extensively known in the Christian communities of Great Britain and the United States as that of William Jay. His 'Morning and Evening Exercises' is in the great majority of Christian families. The Autobiography is written in a style of great simplicity and pleasantness. The reminiscences of Mr. Jay of prominent individuals with whom he was well acquainted—as Rowland Hill, Newton, Richard Cecil, Robert Hall, William Wilberforce, and others, are graphic and entertaining, and replete with anecdote." —Christian Intelligencer.

"This is a delightful work. The autobiography is a simple story of his life, in letters addressed to his children, beginning with bricklayer boy at Beckford's Abbey, whose sweet face attracted the attention of Cornelius Winter, and led to the bringing out of the 'boy preacher,' and ending with the venerable patriarch of Bath, whose name and writings were known and loved all over Protestant Christendom."—Watchman.

"As an autobiography, this will do to go along with that of Hugh Miller."—Journal.

A new edition in 4 royal 12mo vols. $4.

"This edition of the Exercises is in four large 12mo volumes. Paley's Evidences of Christianity,

With Notes and Additions. By Charles Murray Nairne, M.A.

12mo. $1.25.

"It would be a work of supererogation, at this late day, to dwell on the peculiar excellences of Paley's treatise on the Evidences of Christianity. It is not probable it will ever be superseded. Its learning, its exactness, its wonderful clearness of thought, its logical force are [illegible] * * * * * * * The American editor has [illegible] the points in which Paley has failed, and, by his additional matter, has unquestionably furnished the best, as well as the safest edition of Paley extant."—Presbyterian.

"The Editor of this work, we hesitate not to say, is a man of extraordinary intellect and acquirements, and [illegible] capable of doing, has given [illegible] Paley's Evidences of Christianity. The [illegible] could never have been the production of any other than a master-mind."—Puritan Recorder.

"As one of the impregnable defences of the historical verity of the facts of Christianity, the work of Paley [illegible] * * * * [illegible] and additions of Prof. Nairne [illegible] published. The labors of Chalmers, Hill, Wardlaw, Campbell, Alexander, Hitchcock, Miller, Birks, and many others, are here put [illegible]."—Presbyterian of the West.

The Acts and Monuments of the Church;

Containing the History and Sufferings of the Martyrs, wherein is set forth at large the whole race and course of the Church, from the primitive ages to these later times. By John Fox. A new edition, carefully revised and corrected by the Rev. W. Hobart Seymour. Royal 8vo. Illustrated.

From the Rev. John Angel James.

"Your new and cheap edition of Fox's original book needs no recommendation of mine; it deserves additional value from the present efforts, prospects and hopes of the Papacy. Every Protestant ought to know and value this affecting and dreadful illustration of the effects of Popery; if, however, my recommendation be of any worth, I most cordially give it."

From Rev. W. M. Hetherington, D.D.

"At a time like the present, when the Papal system is again threatening to resume its aggressive movements, it must be of great importance that its real character should be known. That character, in all its treachery, falsehood and persecuting cruelty, is nowhere better delineated than in the graphic pages of the memorable Martyrologist."

The Miscellaneous Works of the Rev. Matthew Henry.

2 vols. Royal 8vo.

"'The lips of the righteous,' said Solomon, 'feed many,' and in our own times especially is the assertion verified by the published relics of persons so denominated. * * * * Few individuals have been more distinguished for their endeavors to advance the Divine honor by such means, than Matthew Henry. His name, because of his productions as an author, is deservedly great in Israel; and in the gates thereof do his works praise him. His course on earth terminated long ago, but not until, in a far more exalted sense than the racers in the Grecian games, he had delivered a torch to survivors—a torch which guides to Heaven; and which has not only remained unextinguished, but still flames with increased and cheering brilliance. * * * * The habit of sprightly and apt allusion to Scripture facts, and the use of Scripture language, which Mr Henry diligently cultivated, has not only enriched, but unspeakably enlivened his miscellaneous writings. * * * * His diction, always expressive, is often felicitous; and, though it makes no pretension to elegance, is both nervous and forcible. * * * His allusions and imagery, in like manner, always please and always edify; the former, because they are generally scriptural; the latter, because, like the parables of our Lord, they are derived from the most common occurrences."—*Rev. The Select Works of the Rev. Thomas Watson;

Comprising his celebrated BODY OF DIVINITY, in a series of Lectures on the Shorter Catechism. Royal 8vo. $

"These catechetical lectures of the late Rev. Mr. Thomas Watson, I have read over, together with some sermons annexed to them; and, since my testimony is desired concerning them, I do hereby declare, that—though I will not undertake to justify every expression or sentence in them, or in any human writing—I find them, in the main, agreeable to the doctrinal articles of this church, and unto the Westminster Assembly Confession of Faith and Catechisms; and I believe that, through the blessing of God, they may be profitable unto the edification of all that read them with an honest desire to know and do the will of God.

"1692. William Lorimer."

"We, whose names are subscribed, having seen the testimony of our worthy brother, Mr. William Lorimer, after his perusal of this book, doubt not but it may be of use to many,—as the former writings of Mr. Thomas Watson have been; and, with that desire and hope, we recommend it to masters of families and others.

"I hail with joy the publication of the present elegant and cheap edition of Dr. Ridgely's work, and most earnestly recommend the same to all serious and thinking Christians. Jeanie Morrison;

Or, THE DISCIPLINE OF LIFE. By the author of the "Pastor's Family." Illustrated. 16mo. 75 cents.

"The design and plan of this volume are excellent, and the execution graceful and fascinating. Portions of it are exceedingly touching. The reader is charmed along its pages amid smiles and tears to its happy close. The wise training of a daughter, the strange vicissitudes of life, the beauty of youthful piety in life and death, the blessed rewards of doing good, the way in which God disciplines the soul for usefulness and Heaven: these are among the many beautiful lessons which the volume contains. Few books of rarer interest and attraction have appeared from a teeming press."—Ev. Telegraph.

More Worlds than One;

THE CREED OF THE PHILOSOPHER AND THE HOPE OF THE CHRISTIAN.
By Sir David Brewster. 16mo. 60 cents.

"With a gracefulness of rhetoric that imparts a charm to the researches of science, the learned author here examines and refutes the recently-started theory that there are no other inhabited worlds than our own, a theory which the writer regards as opposed to reason and Divine revelation. It is a beautiful treatise, and will richly reward perusal."—N. Y. Observer.

Mabel Grant :

A Highland Story. By Randall Ballantyne. 18mo. 50 cents.

"A delightful story of Scottish life. A godly minister having left his family with slender means, the mother, by her discretion and piety, and some favorable circumstances in Divine providence, is enabled to train her daughter 'in the way she should go,' and is rewarded by seeing the development of moral excellence in her character as the latter matures to womanhood. There is much of artless simplicity and evangelical religion pervading the book."—Chronicle.

Charles Roussel ; or, Honesty and Industry.

By the author of "Three Months under the Snow." 18mo. 40 cents.

"The trials and toils of a brave young heart, with their legitimate reward, are here narrated in simple and touching language. A poor lad, early deprived of a father's care, manages to execute an apparently impracticable plan of his own invention, with such persevering industry and unshaken trust in Providence as to succeed in supporting his widowed mother and the younger children, until at last he secures for them and himself a settled and comfortable home, accompanied with the esteem and respect of the wise and good. Beloved youth, read this volume and imitate the noble virtues of Charles Roussel."—Lit. Standard.

Emblems Divine and Moral.

By Francis Quarles. 16mo. Illustrated. $1.

"The quaint, suggestive and beautiful emblems of Quarles, are reproduced in a handsome volume, full of wisdom and sanctified wit, and impressive with the most spiritual and earnest views of Divine truth."—Evangelist.

"We are greatly pleased to see this edition of the quaint old poet, Francis Quarles, whose gems sparkle as bright in their sometimes rude setting, as they did when they first appeared. They are even better appreciated now than then, since the prejudices of the times in which he lived and wrote have worn away. He has a place among the standard poets. The emblems which are given are much more quaint than the text which they may illustrate, but they serve as an index to the author's mind and his works."—Observer.

"They are theology epigrammatized—exceedingly quaint and fanciful, yet often very striking and profound. As a poet, Quarles has always taken high rank; and here the original emblematic engravings are given with the poems, and the pithy sayings of the Fathers apposite to them. It is a work which is more than curious, and will well repay study."—Evangelist.

A cheap edition, at 60 cents, of

Infidelity;

ITS ASPECT, CAUSES AND AGENCIES. By the Rev. Thomas Pearson.

The fine edition of do. on large type. 8vo. $2.

"We have no hesitation, without knowing any thing of the author except from this work, in assigning to him a place among the most philosophical and discriminating minds of the age."—Puritan Recorder.

"This is a very able and timely book. Every minister who would have his armor well furnished, and every man who would know how to meet infidelity, as he will find it now in the world, should possess a copy of this volume."—Watchman.

"It is destined, we doubt not, to perform a high mission wherever the English language is read. It is fitted to be a mighty quickener of the intellect, as well as an efficient defender against error, and a faithful guide to evangelical truth."—Argus.

"The appearance of a great book is a great event. It makes an epoch in the history of immortal minds. This remark is emphatically true when this advent is peculiarly opportune. Now both these conditions exist in the present case. This is a great book, and it comes to us just at the right time. No attentive observer of the times needs to be told that the whole aspect of unbelief has changed within the present generation. He who would answer completely the arguments of Hume, Gibbon, Voltaire & Co., would leave unharmed the very strongholds of popular infidelity. Skepticism, beaten from its old ground, takes up an entirely new position, as confidently as if it did not know what defeat is. Now, it is on this new position, that Mr. Pearson assails unbelief, and certainly we have no reason to complain of the result of the battle. He does for this department of apologetics what his countryman, McCosh, has done for the doctrine of the Divine Government. We say to every thoughtful reader, buy this book and ponder it well. It will make its mark on every reader."—St. Louis Presb.

The Eternal Day.

By the Rev. Horatius Bonar. 18mo. 50 cents.

"This book is written and published for the joy and strength of those who are looking forward to an eternal day in heaven. The discussion is scriptural and full of unction and power. Many a weary pilgrim will read it with intense interest, and receive a new impulse in his journey toward that better land."—Christian Chronicle.

The Right of the Bible in the Common Schools.

By George B. Cheever, D.D. 16mo. 75 cents.

"We wish that this book might circulate so widely that it should enter beneath every roof, and be read by every individual who has any interest in the purity and the prosperity of our common schools—and who has not? Dr. Cheever's argument is unanswerable. It effectually disposes of all the sophistry with which this subject has been invested by designing ecclesiastics and demagogues. His logic is the plain common sense that commends itself to the judgment of plain and honest men."—Christian Times.

A tale by Professor Wilson, author of the "Lights and Shadows of Scottish Life." 16mo. 75 cents.

Daniel ;

A Model for Young Men. By the Rev. W. A. Scott, D.D. 8vo. $1.50.

"The topic is one of deepest interest, and probably no character in the sacred Scriptures is more admirably suited to be held up as a model to young men, than that of the Prophet Daniel. The style of the work is fresh, vigorous and bold, and reveals an original mind accustomed to do its own thinking. Altogether the volume is one of no ordinary interest and value, and we trust may lead many a young man to imitate the lofty principle, the incorruptible integrity, and the unwavering piety of the youthful prophet."—Southern Churchman.

Florence Egerton ;

Or, Sunshine and Shadow. By the author of "Clara Stanley," &c. Illustrated. 16mo. 75 cents.

"The story of Florence is instructive and interesting, and is designed to impress upon the young the advantage of cultivating early and constantly cheerful and kind feelings towards their associates. Florence was early left an orphan, and hence educated and disciplined among partial strangers; but the lessons and trials of her youth developed a character of rare excellence, which may be safely commended to the imitation of readers."—Presbyterian of the West.

"The heroine of this tale is a young lady who, under a somewhat diversified experience of the good and evil of human life, formed a calm and quiet character, while yet it was distinguished for cheerfulness and energy. It is an attractive story, and the example which it exhibits, and the moral lessons it suggests, are admirable."—Puritan Recorder.

Broken Bud (The); or, Reminiscences of a Bereaved Mother; with a beautiful frontispiece. 16mo. 75 cents.

"This is a very touching and beautiful book. It is simply the treasured memories of a sorrowing mother, and there is in it so much tenderness, sweetness, and saddened resignation, that it is invested with an inexpressible charm."

BROWN (John, D.D.)—Expository Lectures on the First Epistle of Peter. One thick 8vo volume. $2 50.

Of this work, the North British Review says:—"It is neither Scottish nor German, but sprung from the high and rare union of the best qualities of both schools in a single mind. It has the Scottish clearness, precision, orthodoxy, practicality; the German learning, minuteness of investigation, and disregard of tradition; and for certain qualities too rare in both—resolute adherence to the very truth of the passage—unforced development of the connection, and basing of edification on the right meaning of the Scripture, we have not met with anything in either country that surpasses it."

BUTLER—The Complete Works of Bishop Butler. 1 vol., 8vo. $1 50.

"The Analogy of Butler enjoys a reputation scarcely second to any other book than the Bible; to praise it would be a work of supererogation. As a specimen of analogical reasoning, we suppose it has never been equalled; and its influence, in promoting ministerial efficiency, can hardly be overrated. Some ministers are in the habit of reading it, carefully, once every year. The Analogy occupies about one half the volume; the remainder consists of Dissertations and Sermons."—N. E. Puritan.

"Dr. Henry's large work, which has been repeatedly noticed by this journal, composed by one who has a high but not blind admiration of the reformer's character, and a cordial sympathy with those great principles, to the exposition and defence of which Calvin devoted all the energies of his noble soul, is very admirable. It contains the rich and ample fruits of the researches of many years; it is a well-stored repository of materials gathered from many sources."—Princeton Review.

CECIL (Cath.)—Memoir of Mrs. Hawkes, late of Islington, including Remarks in Conversation and Extracts from Sermons and Letters of the late Rev. R. Cecil. 12mo. $1 00.

"The life and religious experience of Mrs. Hawkes is replete with interest to all who desire to study the grace of God as it is developed in the daily life, habits, and conversation of those who may be justly regarded as exemplifying the hidden meaning of the words—'the secret of the Lord is with them that fear him.' The records of her life are the more interesting because there are inwoven in them so many incidents connected with Cecil. But her own piety and opinions stand on its pages as fine gold purified in the furnace."—Richmond Ch. Advocate.

CHARNOCK (Stephen, B. D.)—Discourses upon the Existence and Attributes of God. With a Life of the author by the Rev. Dr. Symington. 2 vols., 8vo. $3 00.

"The sublimeness, variety, and rareness of the truths handled, together with the elegance of the composure, neatness of the style, and whatever is wont to make any book desirable, all concur in the recommendation of Mr. Charnock on the Attributes. It is not a book to be played with or slept over, but read with the most intense and serious interest." —Adams & Ford.

"Dr. Cheever's name will go down to posterity connected with the [illegible] dreamer in a union no less intimate, though more honorable, than that of Johnson and Boswell. As a commentator of Bunyan he stands without peer or rival. [illegible] has furnished notes for the best valued [illegible] tion and poetry; Dr. Hamilton and Robert Philip have [illegible] in the same [illegible], but [illegible] pictures. Daily Commentary. Exposition of Select Portions of Scripture for every Morning and Evening throughout the Year; a Companion to "Family Worship." By One Hundred and Eighty Clergymen of Scotland. 8vo. Cloth, $3; half calf, $4; morocco, $5.

The work entitled "Family Worship; a Series of Prayers for every Morning and Evening throughout the Year, by One Hundred and Eighty Clergymen of Scotland," was published about a year ago. That volume, reprinted from the Glasgow edition, formed only a portion of the work issued in Scotland, each prayer in the Scotch edition being accompanied by a brief comment on some portion of Scripture. In order to render them more available, the Prayers were reprinted separately, and now, to complete the work, the Expository and Practical Comments on Scripture are embodied in this volume, uniform with "Family Worship."

This "Daily Commentary," however, is not only a valuable companion to "Family Worship," but it is also admirably adapted to the purposes of private devotion. It is believed, both on account of its variety and ability, to be unsurpassed, if not unequalled by any previous work of daily devotional exercise.

"The style of the author is peculiarly adapted to a work of this description. It is uncommonly perspicuous, terse, nervous, and calm. As different as possible from Addison, Steele, and Johnson, he far excels them in the importance of his subjects, and in the originality, largeness, and vigor of his conceptions. "To praise Gray's poems, and especially the Elegy in the Country Churchyard, would be little less than an insult to the intelligence of our readers. But there are some things about the book which we may afford to speak of, as they are not altogether a matter of course. The critical observations at the commencement, are a fitting introduction to the work, as they tell us who the poet was, as well as what he did. The illustrations are just about as beautiful as art can make them. The typography and the paper are both exquisite; and the copy which we have at least, has tasked the skill of the bookbinder to the utmost. It is every way a beautiful book."—Puritan Recorder.

HENGSTENBERG (E. W.)—The Revelation of St. John. Expounded for those who Search the Scriptures. Translated by Patrick Fairbairn. 2 vols., 8vo. $3 50.

"No living theologian is better acquainted with the Old Testament than the author of this able and elaborate work. He is, consequently, well prepared to expound those parts of the New, the imagery of which is borrowed from the Old. He has brought to his task, in the present instance, great learning, deep piety, and unquenchable ardor in the investigation of truth. That he has, in everything, written wisely and correctly, is more than can be said; but he has produced a work of great research, and of unquestionable value to those who search the Scriptures."—Central Christian Herald.

HENRY (MATTHEW)—An Exposition of the Old and New Testaments, largely Illustrated with Practical Remarks and Observations, with a Life of the author by the Rev. SAMUEL PALMER, and an Introductory Preface by the late A. ALEXANDER, D.D. 6 vols., royal 8vo. Sheep. $10 00.

Do. do. Fine Edition, on larger and finer paper, and elegantly bound in half calf. $16 00.

"This work has now been before the Christian community for more than a hundred years, and has, from its first publication, been so well received, and is so generally approved, that all recommendation of the work seems now superfluous. Many other valuable commentaries, it is true, have been given to the public since this work was first edited, and have deservedly gained for themselves a high estimation and extensive circulation. But it may be safely said, that Henry's Exposition of the Bible has not been superseded by any of these publications; and in those points in which its peculiar excellence consists, remains unrivalled. For some particular purposes, and in some particular respects, other commentaries may be preferable; but, taking it as a whole, and as adapted to every class of readers, this Commentary may be said to combine more excellences than any work of the kind which was ever written in any language."—Rev. Dr. Alexander.

"This is in every respect a work of great merit. It contains the history of one of the most interesting portions of the Christian Church, and is distinguished as well by its neat and graceful style, as by the fulness, perspicuity, and so far as we can judge, fidelity of its statements."

HEWITSON (Rev. W. H.)—Memoir of. By the Rev. J. Baillie. Portrait. 12mo. 85 cents.

"This is a book to make one sad, but only with that sadness that makes the heart better. It is sad to see a star so bright and beautiful in its heavenly track, blotted out of sight ere it reached its zenith; and sad to think how few such burning and shining lights are left behind."—Watchman.

HILL (George)—Lectures on Divinity. 8vo. $2 00.

"The candor and fairness of this author are remarkable. In stating the opinions of opponents he is singularly impartial, and states their arguments in their full strength—an unfailing indication of real greatness, and assured confidence in the soundness of his own. You feel yourself in a serene and refreshing atmosphere, as you follow him in these pages, and are everywhere instructed. Full cloth. $4 00. 2 vols. Library style. $5 00.

"To commend Horne's Introduction to the clergy, or other students of the sacred oracles, would be 'carrying coals to Newcastle.' It has long been regarded as an indispensable work for a theological library, and has acquired among Biblical scholars—at least English Scholars—a deservedly high repute. It is a work of gigantic labor. The results of the research and erudition of Biblical scholars of all countries, and in all time, are faithfully garnered, and, on the whole, well digested."—N. Y. Evangelist.

——— (Bishop)—A Commentary on the Book of Psalms. To which is prefixed an Introductory Essay, by the Rev. Edward Irving, of London. 8vo. $1 50.

"His style is lucid, and often terse; his reflections grow naturally out of the sentiments of the passage on which he comments, and there breathes through the whole so much sympathy with the Psalmist in his humble views of himself, and his exalted conceptions of Jehovah; there is such a heavenly, sweet frame of mind exhibited, so much spirituality, and such love for the Redeemer, as to render this commentary one of peculiar fitness for family reading."

HOWARD (John)—Or, the Prison World of Europe, by Hepworth Dixon, Esq. 1 vol., 12mo. 75 cents.

HOWIE (John)—The Scots Worthies; containing a brief Historical Account of the most eminent Noblemen, Gentlemen, Ministers, and others who have suffered for the Reformation. 8vo. $1 50.

"This is an old work famous in Scotch literature, and a worthy companion of Fox's Book of Martyrs. It is a circumstantial history of the principal sufferers of the Covenanters, and others, whose heroic devotion to truth and liberty are worthy of everlasting remembrance and admiration. There is not a name in this long catalogue that does not deserve embalming; their history and memory constitute the richest of Scotland's possessions. The perusal of such a work is well adapted to our times; and it affords, aside from its noble illustrations of Christian principle, a very clear history of religious liberty in Scotland."—Evangelist.

Volume I.—Matthew. 12mo. 75 cents.

"We are greatly mistaken in our estimate of this new work, if it does not become the general favorite in our country as the guide book to the study of the sacred volume. It appears, to our mind, the book we have desired: it embraces the marrow of all the best writers and commentators on the gospels, and the admirable style in which it is published enhances its value. We confidently predict a large sale and its rapid introduction to our Sabbath Schools." Christian Advance and Visitor.

Volume II.—Mark and Luke. 12mo. 75 cents.

"We have oftimes reviewed the works of Mr. James with personal and religious profit, but it has seldom been our pleasure to welcome and peruse a more sterling work from his pen than the one before us. Faith and its nature, its office and effects, is but faintly understood by even our most consistent Christians;—the author has succeeded in a most surprising manner, and with his usually impressive style, to demonstrate the nature of faith in its theoretical, practical and experimental influences upon the heart and the life. The Course of Faith is a rich treasury of piety, knowledge, boundless compassion, and vigorous thought."—Baptist Memorial.

——— The Young Woman's Friend and Guide through Life to Immortality. 16mo. 75 cents.

"We doubt very much if Mr. James has ever made a better book than this. Law and the Testimony, by the author of the "Wide Wide World," "Queechy," &c. 8vo. $3 00.

"Not a treatise nor an essay, neither hath it any human writing at all. It is simply a gathering of the whole Bible testimony on each of the cardinal points of Christian belief, there left to speak for itself. Beneath these grand general heads, about thirty in number, there are no sub-divisions and no artifices of arrangement or collocation; with only an instance or two of exception. Nothing of secondary or partial interest is touched upon. The end and aim of the work is towards the perfecting and beautifying of the faith of Christians, by enabling them to see not only 'the truth,' but the 'whole truth,' and towards establishing the faith of other Christians by setting forth the broad foundation laid for it. For many know but in part the curious articulation of the Christian system; here 'bone is joined to bone,' and the whole body of divinity stands in its full proportions and on its own feet."

LEYBURN (JOHN, D.D.)—The Soldier of the Cross. 12mo. $1.

"Like Wilberforce's 'Practical View,' it has the combined characteristics of the regular finished essay, and the rhetorical, heart-searching appeal. Sound practical instruction is here presented in a most attractive form. The original passage commented on, is singularly bold and beautiful, both in conception and in expression; and the ideas embodied within its imagery are, in this volume, admirably exhibited to the reader's mind. The work is valuable, not only as an instructive treatise for the perusal of the private Christian, but as a model of pulpit oratory in a walk now too seldom trodden."—Presbyterian of the West.

"The tenderness of his conscience—the truthfulness of his character—his deadness to the world—his deep humility and exalted devotion—his consuming love to Christ, and the painful solicitude with which he eyed everything affecting his honor—the fidelity with which he denied himself and told others of their faults or dangers—his meekness in bearing wrong, and his unwearied industry in doing good—the mildness which tempered his unyielding firmness, and the jealousy for the Lord of Hosts which commanded but did not supplant the yearnings of a most affectionate heart, rendered him altogether one of the loveliest specimens of the Spirit's workmanship."—Rev. James Hamilton, of London.

McCOSH (James, D.D.)—The Divine Government, Physical and Moral. 8vo. $2 00.

"If this work wants the attraction of previous literary reputation in the author, the disadvantage is compensated by the surpassing interest and peculiar seasonableness of its subject. The mere title of the book, as indicating an inquiry that must needs embrace some of the deepest questions that have ever exercised the human intellect, is sure to draw the attention of those who are addicted to speculative studies. A glance at its contents will satisfy such that it is deserving of a careful perusal; and once perused, it cannot fail, we should think, to leave an impression of wonder that, for the first time, the author should have become known to the public by a work of such pre-eminent merit. Nor do we fear to hazard the assertion, that he has thus, by a single stride, secured for himself a position in literature such as few ever reached by a first publication, and one which he might never have attained had he put forth in separate and more limited efforts the learning and thought which he has concentrated on this."—North British Review.

MENTEATH—Lays of the Kirk and Covenant. By Mrs. A. Stuart Menteath. 16mo. Illustrated. 75 cents.

"It is a long time since we have enjoyed such a treat as this volume has given us. No nation on the face of the globe has a history so full of interest to the Christian as that of Scotland. Her soil has been consecrated by conflicts, more noble than those immortalized in Homer's song. We are glad to find that Mrs. Menteath has the true spirit of the ballad—wild, plaintive and soul-moving, and we would say to all lovers of ballads, get this beautifully-printed and illustrated volume."

"We have seldom read an author who can make such lucid conveyance of his thoughts, and these never of light or slender quality, but substantial and deep as the philosophy with which he deals. Even when not convinced by his reasonings, it is difficult to resist the impulse by which we feel ourselves carried along in the flow of his commanding and well-sustained sentences."—Dr. Chalmers, in the North British Review.

"If there is any name of modern times consecrated in the grateful remembrances and affections of the Christian, it is that of John Newton. His conversion to Christianity was scarcely less remarkable than that of Saul of Tarsus; and his subsequent course through a long and laborious life, was in many respects quite analogous to the course of the great Apostle to the Gentiles."

PEARSON (Rev. THOMAS)—Infidelity; its Aspects, Causes, and Agencies, being the prize essay of the British organization of the Evangelical Alliance. 8vo. $2.00

"It occupies a distinct field from most of the other recent volumes on this subject; for while these state the argument in defence of Christianity, or answer the principal objections of infidels, Mr. Pearson gives us a panoramic view of infidelity itself. We know not indeed any book which gives so full and so accurate a description of the various aspects which infidelity, in the present age, has assumed. To ministers of the gospel and to all who are brought into contact with the prevailing unbelief of the day, this volume will be peculiarly valuable, while it cannot fail to be deeply interesting to every thoughtful Christian. We congratulate the Church on having among its ministers one so able to do battle for the faith once delivered to the saints; and we congratulate the author on having produced a book which will win for him a high place in the estimation of all who love the truth as it is in Jesus."—United Presbyterian Magazine.

"These subjects are treated in a way that will be satisfactory to all serious minds. The author's style is evidently fitted to the work he has undertaken. It is simple, pure, terse, intelligible, occasionally highly beautiful and forcible, without affectation, labored effort or heaviness. I should regard the extensive circulation of these Guides as fitted to promote the spirituality of Christians, to make them acquainted with their own hearts, and with the power of the religion they profess to love."—*Rev. The selections have been the most copious from the minor poets—those least known in this country—among them will be found some of the most exquisite productions of genius. Accompanying the selections there is a brief sketch of each poet.

TAYLOR (Jeremy)—The Sermons of Jeremy Taylor, D.D. Complete in one volume. 8vo. $1 50.

"This is a massive volume, printed in double-column, and embracing sixty-four not very brief sermons, from the pen of one who, although a Lord Bishop, we better know under the familiar name of Jeremy Taylor. We should be very reluctant to endorse Jeremy Taylor's high churchism, with his no small spice of superstition, or to hold him up as a safe guide in religious matters; the reader must make abatement in these respects; yet, after all, who cannot relish his often fine and affluent thoughts, his no less striking and eloquent language, his poetical imagery, and his bright and picturesque painting, or afford to make up a theological library without reserving a niche for him?" —Presbyterian.

"Every one will remember the 'enthusiasm' of delight with which this work and those belonging to the same series were greeted on their first issue. It was the discovery of a new 'placer' of thought; and although severe tests have shown that all is not gold that glitters; and that some of the brightest surfaces of splendid thought were very thin, yet they have also shown that there was genuine bullion there."—Watchman and Observer.

UNIVERSAL HISTORY ON SCRIPTURAL PRINCIPLES. Extending from the Creation of the World to the Dawn of the Reformation. 3295 pages. In six volumes, foolscap 8vo. Price - - - - - - - - - - - - 8 00

The peculiar advantages of the History to which we would now invite attention are these—

1. It is, in accordance with its name, strictly a Universal History, giving the history of the "wide, wide world," civilized and barbarian.
2. The materials, carefully gathered from more than two hundred volumes of good authority, old and new, are condensed into six portable volumes.
3. It contains nothing that can offend the most delicate Christian taste.
4. The style is narrative or conversational, and every difficulty is explained by the way.
5. The principles are purely scriptural. The word of God is referred to on every subject that comes within its province, and things are pronounced good or evil according to its decisions.
6. The plan of the work is precisely that of a panorama, or rather of a succession of panoramas.
